Mr Hunter gave a delightful violin solo.

The special preacher for the evening was the Rev J Place, of Penhold, who preached an invigorating sermon. The choir rendered the anthem, "Jerusalem" in a tasteful manner. Mrs Davies sang a solo "Stars in My Crown," and Miss Shenfield played three exquisite voluntaries.

The new bowling alleys in the Pacific pool hall were thrown open to the public last Saturday. From the time of opening till late in the night the alleys were occupied, great enthusiasm being shown in the new sport. Mr Tom Riley gave a box of cigars—the highest score made during the day. The prize was won by Mr F H Nunan after a keen struggle. The new sport is likely to prove very popular judging by the leading townspeople. Something of this kind for indoor amusement has long been wanted in Bowden, and the pastime has come to stay.

Jaques Cartier

Lois Rutledge

In 1535 Jaques Cartier, a French explorer, landed at Gape with a party of his own countrymen. The king of France had sent Cartier out to discover a North west passage to China. Cartier was anxious to find this route. He left his large ships in a safe harbor, launched a ship and proceeded to sail up the St. Lawrence river. Where the Ottawa joins the great King of Canadian rivers the ship struck into shallow water and was grounded; so the Frenchmen were compelled to take small boats to continue their voyage.

Cartier was greatly pleased with this new and wonderful country, everything seemed magnificent;—the great broad river flowing peacefully, then suddenly dashing over rocks and fallen trees into unknown depths; the flying spray leaping high, was a match for the courageous Frenchman's heart. The greatest scene of all was the enchanting islands. These islands were places of marvelous beauty. As the little party of men wound their way in and out amongst these isles, they looked as gardens in a fairyland. The birds, all gaily dressed in their beautiful plumage sang songs and scolded by turns; the trees showed every appearance of the season they represented; the leaves had turned to crimson, brown and gold. The dense undergrowth of vines and bushes proved splendid hiding places for shy and wild animals. The wild deer often peered out at the little fleet as it passed on its way.

Montreal rose up before the unexpected eyes of the Frenchmen, a prosperous Indian village. The Indians rushed to the shore making signs of welcome as they viewed the white men; they sang, danced and built bon-fires and treated the visitors as gods sent to help and heal them. The chief of the tribe, an old and feeble man, was carried to Cartier to be made strong and well. The savages brought their sick to be healed by the white man's touch. Cartier was moved to pity for the poor creatures, so simple. Cartier told the chief and his followers of a God who could heal and help them much more than he himself.

They crowned Cartier as their chief with a coronet of red dyed porcupine quills. After a short stay Cartier and his men boarded their ships took leave of the Indians and departed for their home beyond the sea.

The Debating Society

A meeting of the debating society was held on Friday afternoon, Oct 27th. Master Charles Roulston was in the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Jennie Shenfield and signed by the chairman.

The topic for discussion was, "Should women have votes?" The speakers for the affirmative were Margaret Campbell and Catherine Campbell. Pearl Bryenton and Jennie Shenfield; for the negative, Pearl Ridgway, Harvey Walton, James Teeling, Brine Howard and Charles Roulston.

The debate was keen, interesting and instructive and at times very witty.

Mr Armitstead criticized the speeches and gave encouragement to the speakers. He expressed his pleasure at hearing so many able arguments. The principal gave ideas of other countries on the question. The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of "God Save the King."

An Adventure

Brine Howard

One day the owner of a lumber mill found that he would have to go to the nearest town to get another man to saw in the woods.

The town was about twenty miles north of the camp. About fourteen miles from the camp was the Old Man River, a swift mountain stream. The only way the people could tell the depth of it was by a large stone in the centre.

When Jack Brown crossed the river going to the town it was perfectly safe, but when he came back with the hired man he found the river had frozen, having a few inches of ice on it. So they had to go up the river to the rapids.

When they got up the stream a short distance the high horse got down with its head under the water and under the tongue of the wagon.

Brown was going to get out and raise the horse's head above water but the hired man, Joe Grierson, would not hear of such a thing.

Grierson said; "I am a younger man than you are so I will get out and do what there is to be done. With this he jumped into the water which took him about the waist and by keeping hold of the wagon he managed to get to the horses. Catching the bridled of the drowning horse he jerked its head above water. Brown pulling the draw bolt gave the lines to Grierson, who drove the horses to the same side of the river as they started.

As Grierson tied the horses to a neighboring tree on the bank he saw Brown preparing to get out of the wagon. He shouted; Don't get wet. I am as wet as can be, I will carry you out."

Brown, who weighed one hundred and eighty pounds laughed at the idea of Grierson carrying a man of his weight through so swift a stream. Grierson waded in and backed up to the wagon for Brown to get on his shoulder. Now if any man ever expected to get a dip in the river, Brown expected to, however he was carried safe and dry to the bank.

A great difficulty arose how to get dry clothes for Grierson as the nearest house was a quarter of a mile over the river; Brown knowing this told Grierson about it. Taking a pole Grierson started across where the ice seemed to be the strongest. He crossed safely and went to the house to see if he could not borrow another team to get the wagon out of the river. When he got there the man was away with all his horses. Nevertheless the man's wife gave him some of her husband's clothes. After he put them on he asked her if he could borrow their wagon. He came back over the river crossing the same place as before. He told Brown he thought he could lead the horses over one at a time.

After getting over the stream they took the farmers wagon and went home.

The next morning they started back with a fresh team. When they got to the river they found the wagon frozen in it. They chopped it out and hitched a chain to the back axle. They hauled it out and blocked it there. Unhitching the horses they took the blocks out from under the wheels and the wagon went over on its own accord.

When they hitched up they went home all the wiser for the experience that they had had.

SETTLER OF STRIKES

G. R. ASKWITH IS A SPECIALIST ON LABOR DISPUTES.

Official of the Liberal Government in Britain Has the Title of Comptroller-General of the Commercial Labor, and Statistical Departments of the Board of Trade—Has Wonderful Record in Role of Peacemaker.

The greatest strike in the history of the British Empire was settled not long ago, when conditions almost equivalent to a civil war made it necessary for the Government to act promptly and decisively, as no Government ever did on behalf of a labor dispute. It was a national crisis. A quarter of a million railway employees were out. Troops were firing upon strike rioters. At a riot in Wales the day before the settlement two men were shot down and others wounded. The Chancellor of the Exchequer came into the breach. The Liberal Government was largely elected by labor interests. The conference at the Board of Trade offices was the result.

By midnight messages had been sent to 1,800 labor unions ordering off the strike. The men claimed to have scored a victory—in the recognition of the unions. Most of the credit was accorded to Lloyd-George. The Premier was in personal attendance at the conference; when both he and the Finance Minister acted in the capacity of Labor Minister.

But the combined efforts of both Premier and Chancellor might have been ineffective but for the offices of one man. He is George Rankin Askwith, K.C., whose official position is Comptroller-General of the Commercial Labor and Statistical Departments of the Board of Trade. Single-handed Mr. Askwith had brought to a settlement the first strike of the London dock laborers and carters, which looked as if it was going to ruin London's business. The principal part of Mr. Askwith's job, in spite of its high-sounding title, is to try, as a representative of the Government, to settle labor disputes, and he has displayed such genius in his calling that the masters and men in nearly every big strike in the last two years have sent for him to conduct their negotiations.

His management of the last big strike in London is an excellent illustration of his methods. He got both sides to meet after they had told each other they wouldn't. Under his chairmanship they sat continuously for nearly 48 hours, till soon after midnight of the second day the arrangement was announced that stopped the strike and saved London.

Practically the same thing happened at Hull, where the sailors came out a few weeks ago. When that strike spread to Cardiff and South Wales, Askwith traveled there, and in a couple of days restored peace. Last winter it is a certainty that the whole cotton industry, which employs so many millions throughout the northern counties, would have come to a standstill had not Askwith traveled north and stayed there until he saw every one of the cause of friction removed. When rapine and bloodshed were afoot in the mining district of South Wales last winter it was Askwith who sent for the men's leaders to confer with him.

Askwith is tall and lank and grey-eyed. At the Bar his career was distinguished. During the Parnell Commission he acted on behalf of The Times, and he represented Great Britain during the Venezuelan imbroglio.

A Not Unusual Case.
I loaned a friend some months ago
A tinner, nothing loath,
And now whenever I think of it
I'm sorry for us both.

His borrowing has caused a loss
To him as well as me,
For I have lost the money loaned,
And he his memory.

PROFESSOR ON THE GRIDIRON.

Harry Griffiths Is No Longer For Varsity Campus.

In Ontario there is a schoolmaster of high distinction in romance languages who never gets credit for being an academician at all. To his students he is known as "Harry"; to a large part of the student body of the University of Toronto even more intimately as "Reddy." The great Canadian sporting public speak of him affectionately as "Reddy" or "Reddy" Griffiths. They think that they know him. But the electric, little, burn-haired man, who turns out championship college Rugby teams in Toronto is a many-sided genius.

Mr. H. C. Griffiths was a professor in the French department of the University of Toronto. For several years he has acted as honorary coach to the college football club. So great has become his reputation in the football world, that his real academic position the public have completely overlooked. Now, that is not because Griffiths does not count in the lecture room, but because fame catches a man quicker pulling off athletic stunts than examining French papers. That Griffiths really after all draws a professor's salary, the public have been reminded lately. He says he is not going to teach any more French at Toronto. And that means that in a few weeks, when the leaves begin to yellow, and the gridiron squads to trot out on the campus at the Ontario-University, there will be no dynamic "Reddy" Griffiths teaching signals to Toronto pigskin artists. And all over the Dominion there is a sigh from hundreds of seniors and fair coeds and freshmen.

They don't want to lose him. Griffiths, the student's faculty hero, has carried their interests to a grand stand finish. No man at the University of Toronto ever did more for athletics and esprit de corps than H. C. Griffiths. He has done a great deal for the uplift of sport outside of his own constituency. Griffiths is an idealist in sport. In that sense he is the professor on the gridiron. At the American colleges there are professorial football enthusiasts. At Soldiers' Field you may see them sitting in boxes at the championship games. They differ from Griffiths. Season after season he has given every night of his time to exhorting, cheering and teaching a bunch of raw boys punting, tackling and trick plays. He has never got a single cent for it. Highly paid professional coaches attend to the training of Harvard and Yale gladiators. The faculty look on.

Why does Professor Griffiths step from the cloister and coach football teams? Because he loves the game, and he's just as much a college boy as a professor. He's a diverse personality.

There is "Reddy" Griffiths, a short, tense figure in tweed suit and tan gloves, hatless, chasing a ball around a field, a pack of panting youths at his heels. "Follow up, second! Follow up—up!" Then there is the scholar with as keen a love for hunting down slips in French grammar as the wizard of the gridiron for uncovering bad team work. The football Griffiths is a sphinx when you ask him about the team's chances. When the Dominion was on tip-toe last year just before the Varsity-Hamilton conflict, to the pressmen he was tactfully polite. He loses his nerve only when the camera snaps. Griffiths, the professor, is somewhat of a lackadaisical person, tripping over to Europe every summer to stroll on the boulevards and in the cafes and art galleries, and when he comes back and gets a few fellows in his room, he can keep them up all night with whimsical reminiscences of the Latin Quarter.

Griffiths is leaving Varsity, and the worries of the Intercollegiate Union. To become a bromide? Not Griffiths. He has become a master of that live prep. school for boys at St. Catharines—Bishop Kidley. He is a graduate of this school, and he has always had a hunger to get back.—Canadian Courier.

SAVED HERSELF YEARS OF PAIN

IF SHE HAD USED DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS FIRST

Mrs. McRea Suffered For Over Two Years Then Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Made a New Woman of Her.

Pevil, Gaspé Co., Que.—(Special)—That she might have escaped two years and seven months of suffering had she tried Dodd's Kidney Pills in the first place is the firm conviction of Mrs. John McRea, an old and respected resident of this place. And this is the reason she gives for believing so:

"For two years and seven months I was a sufferer from Kidney Disease brought on by a strain and a cold. My eyes were puffed and swollen, my muscles cramped, and I suffered from Neuralgia and Rheumatism. My back ached, and I had pains in my joints. For two years I was under the doctor's care, but he never seemed to do me any lasting good. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new woman of me."

To save yourself suffering, cure your kidneys at the first sign of trouble. Dodd's Kidney Pills are the one sure cure.

A TALK ON RHEUMATISM

Telling How to Cure This Painful Malady

This article is for the man or woman who suffers from rheumatism who wants to be cured, not merely relieved—but actually cured. The most a rheumatic sufferer can hope for in rubbing something on the tender, aching joint, is a little relief. No lotion or liniment ever did or ever can make a cure. The rheumatic poison is rooted in the blood. Therefore rheumatism can only be cured when this poisonous acid is driven out of the blood. That's why rubbing and liniments and outward applications are no good—they can't reach the cause in the blood. Any doctor will tell you this is true. If you want something that will go right to the root of the trouble in the blood every time take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new, rich blood which drives out the poisonous acid and cures rheumatism to stay cured. This is a solemn truth which has been proved in thousands of cases, and the following is a striking instance. Mrs. W. H. Elnor, Sarnia, Ont., says: "I feel it my duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they completely cured me of rheumatism after I had been almost an invalid for three years. I doctored with two skilled doctors and took electric treatment, but without benefit. On going to a third doctor he recommended mineral baths as the only thing that would help me. After taking this treatment for some time I felt that I was really growing worse instead of better, and I began to think there was no cure for me and that I was doomed to be a helpless sufferer. For some months I discontinued all treatment and then I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking a few boxes I could notice a distinct improvement, and I continued taking the Pills for several months when the cure was complete. That is some two years ago, and I have ever since been perfectly free from the trouble. I would therefore advise anyone afflicted with rheumatism to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they certainly made a remarkable cure in my case."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

After 230 years' continuous service, St. Agnes Lighthouse, the oldest lighthouse in the world, has been finally closed down, and has had its light extinguished.

CRIMINAL NATURE.

Penitentiary Warden Tynan Says:

There is No Such Thing.

"Criminal nature!" As Thomas T.

Tynan, the warden of the Colorado state penitentiary, propounded his merry Irish face and its usual smile,

and he fairly snarled the words:

"That's the kind of talk that makes me

It's all poppycock. Why, shave that

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST.

The Newest Wrinkle in the Fashionable Parisian World.

The old nursery story of "Beauty and the Beast" has just been revived by the fashionable beauties of Paris in a way calculated to accentuate their charms. They are surrounding themselves with the ugliest maid-servants imaginable. Their constant companions are the most hideous pets imaginable.

One celebrated beauty, Mlle. Manon Loti, has engaged a dwarf who is described as having "a tremendous head, a malevolent expression and hardly any legs," and Mlle. Loti takes him out walking with her every afternoon in order that his very ugliness will emphasize her own beauty all the more.

Mlle. Mistinguette, the dancer, has engaged as maid a Hindu woman with ringed ears and a face which is by no means attractive. Other beauties are selecting equally unattractive folks, and the fashion is said to be spreading just as rapidly as ugly servants and pets can be found.—New York World.

Tons of Rubber From Old Tires.

There is one source of supply of rubber that crude rubber men are likely to overlook, yet one that will wonderfully help in case of a short crop or too high a range of prices on the Amazon. The world—not the tropical world, but the temperate zone—possesses several million pounds of Para rubber that will be shortly offered to the trade at from 50 to 70 cents a pound. There will be a steady offering of it for years to come, and the supply will increase. Its source is the worn-out motor tire that goes to the recycler and is thoroughly "recovered." For five years past the tire manufacturers have been turning out tons of tires and paying a high price for raw material. This great accumulation of rubber is just beginning to come back and is of a grade that can be used in almost any line of work.—India Rubber World.

Flight of a Toy Balloon.

A correspondent describes the remarkable journey performed by a paper balloon such as may be obtained from the toyshops, which he sent up recently with a postal card attached, giving date and time of day at four o'clock (Nord). Two days later the card was returned from Cornillon (Vogues), 415 kilometers (258 miles) distant, with a note indicating that the journey to the latter point had been accomplished in 2 hours and 45 minutes at the rate of about ninety-four miles an hour. A northwest gale was blowing at the time.—Cosmos.

Children's Judges in France.

An important amendment has been added to the law of France for the trial of offenses committed by children of less than thirteen years. It permits women lawyer to act as magistrates in children's cases. "Before very long," says a correspondent of the London Express, "we shall have lady judges on the bench in Paris, and this new law will in all probability permit the lady magistrate to wear scarlet robes edged with ermine, as do the male magistrates in the French law courts."

In Dread of Something

You Can Scarcely Tell What—It May Be Hysteria, Insanity, Nervous Collapse

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

When the nervous system breaks down you live in constant dread of something terrible about to happen.

Physical suffering cannot be compared to the mental agonies of the nervous wreck who fears that his mind may give way or that his body may be paralyzed.

In this condition you must suffer alone, for friends cannot understand or sympathize with you. They tell you to cheer up, or that it is only imagination.

You can only throw off this depression when the nerve cells are restored to health by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Your digestive system has failed to supply proper nourishment to the nerves and you are compelled to seek aid from other sources.

It will take some patience and persistent treatment, but there is no way by which you can so certainly restore health and vigor as by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The best time to restore the nervous system is long before such a critical condition is reached. Such symptoms as sleeplessness, headaches, nervous indigestion, muscular weakness, loss of energy, failure of memory and power of concentration, irritability and discouragement tell of a failure of the nervous system, and warn you of the approach of serious trouble.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; all dealers, or Edmandson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

I never knew any one who worked more than he should, but I know thousands who do not work enough.

"How much cider did you make this year?" inquired Farmer A of Farmer B, who had offered him a sample for trial.

"Fifteen barrels," was the answer. Farmer A took another sip. "I reckon, Si," he drawled, "if you'd had another apple you might ha' made another barrel."—Boston Transcript.

AFTER SUFFERING YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fox Creek, N.B.—"I have always had pains in the loins and a weakness there, and often after my meals my food would distress me and cause soreness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better, and I can walk with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it, as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers."—Mrs. WILLIAM BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N.B., Canada.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

DRY FARMING MEETING

LETHBRIDGE SECURES THE DRY FARMING CONGRESS FOR 1912

Alberta Representation Carry Off the Honors Amidst a Burst of Enthusiasm—The Convention a Huge Success—Exhibits From Western Canada a Centre of Attraction for the Immense Delegation.

Lethbridge, Alta.—A despatch from Colorado Springs says: "Signed, sealed and delivered by President Geo. M. Hatch and Secretary Manwaring, all the papers required to land the dry farming congress for the city of Lethbridge, Alberta, were delivered recently to the executive committee in the executive presence of Hon. Duncan Marshall and George Harcourt, deputy minister of agriculture, representing the Alberta government. Lethbridge is the home, headquarters and meeting place of the 1912 exposition.

"To Hon. Duncan Marshall must go a large measure of the credit for obtaining this much coveted congress, for so far placing Lethbridge's claims before the committee, and for assuring them on behalf of the government the necessary financial support for so large an undertaking. To George Harcourt must be given much credit for his excellent work on the committee and to J. W. McNicol, Geo. M. Hatch, Fred W. Downer, and J. L. Manwaring and to everyone of the Canadian delegates, who have boosted every minute while here, and to the good work of A. Perry as a practical farmer should the praise of Alberta and Lethbridge people be given.

When S. McIntosh, of Australia, and the Uruguay delegates arose in committee, moved and seconded that to make the conference international it should go to Canada next year, and when Hon. Duncan Marshall stated he had every confidence in the Lethbridge board of trade, and that they would have the financial aid to carry the congress through, Salt Lake withdrew and threw in their support for Lethbridge, and the board of trade mission was fulfilled and when before a packed house of delegates from all over the world George Harcourt announced that Arizona and Utah had withdrawn leaving Lethbridge alone in the field, the enthusiasm of the Canadian delegates waving the Union Jack in a body was a wild scene making a fitting climax for the big fight, the pipers putting on the finishing touches. It was a grand scene.

Hon. Duncan Marshall thanked the two states which withdrew and the delegates from every nation for their support for the congress in 1912, assuring them of the hearty welcome of the citizens of Lethbridge, Alberta, and in fact of the whole Dominion of Canada.

Lethbridge really had very little opposition for the 1912 congress, the spirit of enthusiasm with which they entered the fight seemed to carry everything before it. Before two days had gone past, everyone was talking Lethbridge and Canada for 1912. It was the spirit that the congress should be made international, and the delegates from every state entered into Canada's fight with a will.

When the meeting was called to order and announcement was made that applicants for next year's congress would be heard, the pipers' band entered the room playing among other tunes an American tune which carried the crowd off its feet. It was the signal for the climax of Canada's fight and turned everything in its favor.

Phoenix, Arizona, and Salt Lake, Utah, made bids for 1913, M. Leiderfrost for Budapest in 1914, San Diego making the advance bid for 1915.

Then the chairman called up the Hon. Duncan Marshall for an address from Canada, and in it he clinched Canada's claim. Not only did he invite the dry farming congress, but he invited also the women's department, gaining their votes in his favor. This drew attention to the idea of making the congress international in every respect, showing Canada's claims by reason of the fact that the grand challenge premium had been won in the last two years by Alberta; Lethbridge and Southern Alberta farmers were first to take up the movement in Canada and their attendance at the past congress had done much to make them a success. Speaking of what Canada could do for them, he mentioned the scenery of the Rockies in Canada, but better than that he had a telegram from the town of Magrath, Alberta, stating that off one thousand acres just thrashed, Heathershaw and Bradshaw had thrashed forty-seven thousand bushels, that is the kind of scenery the dry farming congress wanted to see.

Budapest, Hungary, may be the seat of the great international dry farming congress in 1913. The twelve delegates from foreign countries, and not including Canada, now attending the congress in this city, had a meeting and voted to support the claims of Hungary. At the afternoon session of the congress in Europe. They decided to take the matter up with the ministers of agriculture and the wealthy land owners.

It is the intention to go to the meeting at Lethbridge, Canada, next year with every European country represented and with votes enough to capture the 1914 congress, succeeding in that they will proceed to organize the countries of Europe to hold an international congress.

During her recent visit to Geneva, Switzerland, the Begum of Bhopal purchased over four thousand watches.

WOMAN FOOLS LETHBRIDGE

Spokane Woman Gathered in $200 in Short Time and Was Afterwards Arrested

Lethbridge, Alta.—A woman calling herself Miss V. King, of Spokane, Wash., was arrested late on Thursday on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. It is alleged that she went to several of the business houses and passed herself off as a nurse in the employ of Galt Hospital, and that one of the nurses was to be married soon, and the others wished to give her a suitable present, and accordingly made her selection. The next visit was an entirely different one. She was doing a little charity work for the hospital, getting some stationary and charts, and "would Mr. be kind enough to give her assistance, only $20, and it would be helping along a good cause?" and many merchants yielded. However, some few made special enquiry, and found out some surprising facts. While Miss King was doing the work for the hospital, all that the hospital would receive, it is alleged, would be a year's supply of stationery. The best part of the money would go to Miss King, and it is claimed she collected about $200 profit for two hours' work.

Thursday evening a warrant was issued for her arrest, with the result that she was gathered in by the police on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. She immediately secured her release, furnishing a $200 cash bail.

BUSY ON LACOMBE EXPLOSION

Detectives Are Keeping Very Quiet Over the Case—Are Holding Their Evidence

Lacombe, Alta.—Bickford, the baggageman injured in the explosion at the C. P. R. depot recently, is recovering from the injuries received and will be around shortly.

The funeral of baggageman MacLeod, who was so injured that he died, was held on Sunday, and was the largest ever held here. The body was shipped to his home at French River P. E. I.

The police are working on the case, and it is said have gleaned considerable evidence against the men arrested for having explosives in their trunks. The two photographers, P. Nein and H. Liene, were up before the magistrate on Friday charged with causing the death of MacLeod and were remanded for eight days. The coroner's jury will sit on the case on Friday morning next. It is reported that the detectives have discovered among the ruins of the trunks that caused the explosion, several tools usually used by burglars, such as steel saws and fine steel drills.

A man named Avelson, who resides in Calgary, was arrested on Saturday, he being in some way known only to the detectives on the scene connected with the explosion. The detectives are keeping very quiet over the case and are holding their evidence for the sitting of the jury on Friday.

CONSCIENCE-STRICKEN

Spokane Man Says He is Embezzler, But Finds Shortage Made Good

Minneapolis, Min.—M. O. Doyer, of Spokane, Wash., walked into police headquarters recently and asked to be arrested as an embezzler. Four hours later the manager of the firm whom he said he had robbed of $3,500 ordered his release.

Along with the order for his release came the news that the stork is expected at the Doyer home, where the wife has waited since August for her husband to return from his vacation. His shortage has been made good, according to information from Spokane, and he can return home with only his trouble conscience as punishment.

"I am weary and sick from months of travel trying to avoid police officers," Doyer said. "Now I want to see my wife. I have been as far east as Pittsburgh, and have recently been in Winnipeg. Now I am tired of being driven from one place to another by my conscience. I took the money, and now I am willing to take the consequences."

Western Boosters to Hold Congress

Calgary.—A proposition is on foot to bring together all the industrial commissioners and secretaries of the boards of trade, west of the Great Lakes at a congress to be held in Winnipeg during the month of January, 1912. The deliberations of the congress will last three days and will be concerned with some of the big problems which confront the boards of trade and industrial commissions. It is intended to formulate a scheme for closer co-operation of the various boards of trade in the work of development in Western Canada.

Land Set Aside for the Indians

Ottawa.—An order in council has been passed setting apart for Fisher river band of Indians two parcels of land comprised in township 29, range 1 east of principal meridian, and township 28, range 1, west of principal meridian. The land is set aside at the request of the Indian department.

BAHAMAS AND CANADA

BAHAMAS WOULD JOIN THE DOMINION

This Would Give Them Larger Markets and Increased Trade for Their Fruits—Sir William Grey Wilson, Governor of the Bahamas Has a Conference with Hon. Geo. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce—The Union is Approved by Legislature of the Bahamas.

Ottawa.—Sir William Grey Wilson, governor of the Bahamas, has a conference with Hon. Geo. Foster, minister of trade and commerce, when the proposed union of the Bahamas with Canada was discussed informally. Sir William is an earnest advocate of a union which has been approved by both branches of the Bahama legislature. His mission to Canada is not official, but the conference may lead to some sort of understanding, making possible a series of more formal negotiations through the imperial government.

An organic union such as the Bahamas are asking, could be brought about by simply transplanting the appointive power from London to Ottawa in regard to the legislative council of the island, commercial union being of course an integral part of the arrangement.

The Bahamas are perfectly willing to accept the Canadian tariff as it stands, and they calculate upon obtaining under it a revenue equal to what they now enjoy. They would also be free of tariff troubles with the United States, and would derive the benefits from Canada's commercial stability, would get their foodstuffs free and have in Canada a large and increasing market for their fruits. It is stated that the want of such a market has caused the fruit production of the Bahamas to decline. The trade of the islands has been largely with the United States, more especially with New York and the United States tariff has proven a decided injury to the trade of the islands, the salt trade having been almost ruined. Importance is now given to the union now proposed in the fact that the Bahamas lie directly to the new trade route of the Panama canal.

SWEEPSTAKES CUP FOR ALBERTA

Alberta Has Best Exhibit at the Sixth Annual Dry Farming Congress

Colorado Springs, Colo.—Alberta wins the Sweepstakes Cup for the best exhibit at the sixth international dry farming congress by the narrow margin of nineteen points over Oklahoma, scoring 725 to the latter's 706. The premium is a very fine silver cup donated by Hon. J. R. McKinnic of Colorado Springs and presented on behalf of the board of directors by Prof. W. H. Olin of Idaho. Hon. Duncan Marshall received the cup for Alberta and in a neat address thanked the congress and the American people for the very friendly relations between the two countries. His reply was received with bursts of applause from delegates from all over the States.

With Lethbridge boasting for the dry farming congress for 1912 and Alberta running off with over sixty first premiums in the competition, Western Canada is getting a boost here which means thousands for the country. It is generally conceded Lethbridge will land the congress. Hon. Duncan Marshall has been elected one of the Canadian vice-presidents and Geo. Harcourt is corresponding secretary for Alberta.

200 DOMESTICS ARRIVE

Special C. P. R. Immigrant Train Brings Many Girls West

Winnipeg.—About 225 British immigrants from the steamships Royal George, Lake Manitoba, and Pomeranian arrived here recently on the immigrant special.

Most of them went to the coast and points west, but several families remained in Winnipeg.

The first section of the Imperial Limited brought in about 160 British and a few German immigrants.

There were also 200 domestics on this train, members of Mrs. Joyce's party. Eight of the girls had obtained employment in this city. Four went to the girls home of welcome. The remainder of the party, under the escort of Miss Black, went through.

J. A. Ruddick Starts on Tour of West

Ottawa.—J. A. Ruddick, dairy and cold storage commissioner, left on the Imperial Limited for an official trip through the Western provinces. He will enquire into several cold storage proposals and look over various lines of work in connection with dairying and fruit growing industries, which are carried on by branches of the department of agriculture over which he has charge. Mr. Ruddick will go as far as Victoria.

BROOKS' COMET IS IN VIEW

Anyone Wishing to Rise Early Can Get Good Glance at Celestial Wanderer

Calgary.—Friday morning, at 5 a.m., Calgary standard time, people were gratified by a splendid view of the comet. It was then bearing about E. N.E., some two points more northerly than Venus, who still remains a good guide whereby to pick up the stranger, although the comet is moving with such swiftness that the distance between them has considerably increased since Monday. It is estimated it had risen about half an hour previously, say about 4.30 a.m.

It has entered the constellation Virgo and hence is moving "in consequence" or "direct" as astronomers say. While having progressed several degrees in right ascension and longitude there is no very great variation in declination and latitude. It is close to the equinoctial ecliptic, if it has not already passed it.

The moon had not risen at the time and consequently nothing interfered with the view of the new arrival. Its tail, though not very brilliant as yet, is nevertheless well-defined, and several degrees in length, making the comet quite unmistakable.

A characteristic of comets—which are shy, delicate creatures—is the exceeding care they take of their tails, which they always keep turned away from the sun, presumably to save them from being scorched by the furnace. This is as much as to say that our present visitor's caudal appendage will be seen streaming upwards.

According to a telegram from Italy, the appearance of this celestial stranger has caused a panic among the poorer population of Naples, who ascribe to it the present Italo-Turkish war, and the general European unrest, and fear some great misfortune is impending for the world.

HAD TROUBLE WITH DEER

Took Five Weeks to Get Herd From East to Fort Smith in Athabasca

Ottawa.—Five weeks have passed since Mr. E. F. Drake of the department of the interior left extreme east to take to Alberta a herd of reindeer from Dr. Grenfell's herd. He is again in the city and although he says the trip was a fine one, and one which he will not soon forget, also states that he will have to remember the troubles which his assistants had in transporting the herd. Mr. Drake did not go to Labrador, but met those in charge of the herd at North Sydney. From this point he took charge. They proceeded by boat as far as Quebec, and here their troubles commenced. The reindeer had to be transferred from boat to train and a large cage was hoisted to and from the deck, where they were first landed. It took all kinds of coaxing to get the animals into the cage, but even more trouble ensued in getting them from the customs house in the car. Similar difficulties were encountered during the trip. Mr. Drake took the animals as far north as Fort Smith on Athabasca river, where the herd was handed over to the government agents. Mr. Drake then started for Ottawa. In five weeks he travelled 7,000 miles, much of which was upon western rivers and lakes.

MEIGHEN HAD BIG ESTATE

He Has Left $2,483,783—His Widow Is to Get $40,000 a Year

Toronto, Ont.—The late Robert Meighen, who died in Montreal on July 13 last, left a large estate in the province of Ontario, and his will has been filed for probate in the surrogate court here. The total value of the estate is estimated at $2,483,783, of which $1,795,612 is represented by stock in corporations.

The value of shares in companies having their headquarters in Ontario is given as $811,845.

The will bequeaths a brother, Charles Meighen, of Perth, Ontario, an annuity of $1,000. Upon his death his unmarried daughter is to receive an annuity of $600.

To his widow Mr. Meighen bequeaths the income of his entire during her lifetime, but specifies that the proceeds from his investment in the Canada Northwest company shall be treated as capital of the estate. Should Mrs. Meighen's income be at any time less than $40,000 a year the deficit shall be made up from the capital.

Sir Wm. White Elected

Toronto.—At the meeting of the board of directors of the Imperial Guarantee and Accident Insurance company of Canada, Sir William Whyte, of Winnipeg, was elected a director, to fill the vacancy made by the death of the late J. J. Kenny.

A Useful Hint

Sometimes when pouring boiling liquid or jellies into a glass dish the glass breaks. This can be prevented by pressing the bowl of a spoon on the bottom of the dish while it is being filled.

Shoe Polish

When there is no shoe polish to be had, lemon juice makes an excellent substitute. A few drops sprinkled on black or tan shoes, and rubbed briskly, will leave a brilliant shine.

All votes in Parliamentary elections must be cast between the hours of 8 a.m. and 8 p.m.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON V.—FOURTH QUARTER, FOR OCT. 29, 1911.

Text of the Lesson, Ps. lxxxv—Memory Verses, 10, 11—Golden Text, Ps. cxxvi, 3—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The Holy Spirit used several people to write the Psalms, such as David and Asaph and Moses (see titles of Psalms lxxxii, lxxxiii, lxxxvi, lxxxix and Neh. xii, 46), but no doubt each one would say as David did, "The Spirit of the Lord spake by me, and His word was in my tongue" (II Sam. xxiii, 2). Both prophets and poets were "the Lord's messengers with the Lord's message," speaking or writing as moved by the Holy Spirit (Hag. i, 13; II Pet. i, 21). The occasion of this psalm was some deliverance from some captivity which had come upon them because of their sins, possibly some of the oppressions in the days of the Judges, but it looked onward to the deliverance from the captivity in Babylon and also beyond the times in which we live to the final restoration of Israel to their own land, after which they shall be plucked up no more forever (Isa. x, 11, 12; Jer. xxxi, 10; Amos ix, 14, 15).

We cannot do better than take the division of the psalm suggested by Mr. Spurgeon in his "Treasury of David," in which he says that in verses 1-4 the poet sings of the Lord's former mercies and begs Him to remember His people; in verses 5-7 He pleads the cause of afflicted Israel, and then, having listened to the sacred oracle in verse 8, he published in verses 9-13 the joyful tidings of future good.

We must always remember that there are a land and a people distinct from every other land and people chosen by God as a centre of blessing to all the world—Thy land, O Immanuel, and the children of Israel, a people near unto Him (Isa. viii, 8; Ps. cxliiii, 14). But, inasmuch as the Lord God of Israel is none other than the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. He who says "I am the Lord, I change not" (Mal. iii, 6), every true child of God may claim His love and mercy at His own and rejoice in His salvation.

The six times "Thou hast" of the first three verses declare Him as the doer of it all, and so we must see Him in every phase of salvation, doing all for His own name's sake, without any cause or reason why on our part except our guilt and need. "Not for your sakes, but for mine holy name's sake" (Ezek. xxxiv, 22).

The word "favorable" in verse 1 is in the margin "well pleased with" and reminds us of Isa. xlii, 21, "The Lord is well pleased for His righteousness' sake." There is only one with whom He is always well pleased, and His is the only righteousness that can stand, but it is given freely to all penitent ones (I Cor. i, 30; II Cor. v, 21; Isa. lxi, 10; xlv, 24), and all such can rejoice in iniquity forgiven, sin covered, wrath gone (Ps. xxxii, 1, 2; Rom. iv, 6-8; I Thess. i, 10; I John ii, 12).

The word "salvation" in verses 4, 7, 9, opens to us the whole Bible and fixes our eyes and our hearts upon Him of whom, as His redeemed ones, we are able to say, "Behold, God is my salvation," and of whom old Simeon spake when, holding the Babe in his arms he said, "Mine eyes have seen thy salvation" (Isa. xii, 2; Luke ii, 30). I am helped by thinking of Him and His salvation under six aspects, threefold as individual and threefold in a larger sense. Our individual salvation includes first all that becomes ours when we receive Jesus Christ as our Saviour—eternal life, forgiveness of sins, acceptance in Him, etc., then the working this out or manifesting it in the daily life and then the perfection of it all in our glorified body at His coming. The larger aspect includes first the whole church, His body, then all Israel and then all nations. What a word it is and what a glorious privilege to proclaim it and to announce that "the grace of God bringeth salvation to all men" (Tit. ii, 11). The question will not down, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" to tell the wondrous story, but so very few are saying, "Here am I; send me" (Isa. vi, 8). Verse 8 should take hold over every believer's heart, and there should be a firm determination to hear only what God the Lord has said. Opinions of men concerning the things of God are worth nothing and are often worse than nothing and had better never have been uttered. In Christ Jesus, by virtue of His great sacrifice which He made peace (Col. i, 20), there is peace with God for every true penitent and perfect peace which passeth all understanding for any and every one whose mind is stayed on Him (Rom. v, 1; Isa. xxvi, 3; Jer. xxix, 11; Phil. v, 6, 7; John xiv, 27).

Righteousness and peace are inseparably associated, for there can be no peace apart from righteousness, and it must be the righteousness of His providing, for He says that ours is only filthy rags (Isa. lxiv, 6). It is true now, as it will be in His kingdom upon this earth, that "the work of righteousness shall be peace and the effect (or service) of righteousness quietness and assurance forever" (Isa. xxxii, 17). With this righteousness we have the assurance of all good (Ps. lxxxiv, 11; Rom. vii, 32).

Cooperage Production

The amount of cooperage produced in Canada during 1910 has been compiled by the Dominion Forestry Branch at Ottawa. Reports were received from one hundred and thirty-three firms of which ninety-four were in Ontario, showing that slack and tight cooperage was produced in Canada to the value of one million seven hundred and forty thousand dollars. As the hardwood forests of Canada are already greatly depleted, and as the Canadian products transported in barrels are chiefly flour and apples, requiring only slack cooperage, the tight cooperage stock manufactured in 1910 amounts to only one-fifth of the total value. Barrels made from tight stock are used as containers of oils, alcoholic liquors and other liquids, and as Canada has practically no wood of sufficiently clear quality for such stock, the most of it has to be imported as staves or stave bolts from the United States. Of the total, slack cooperage made up one million three hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars, which is two hundred thousand dollars less than the 1909 value. Notwithstanding the decrease in value of slack cooperage for 1910, the number of pieces produced was five hundred thousand more than in 1909. Practically no cooperage is manufactured in Canada for export, and whatever quantity is shipped out is the cooperage left on the manufacturers hands after the domestic market has been satisfied. In the middle of the last decade the export trade was quite an important branch of the cooperage industry, but in 1910, exports of staves, heading and barrels amounted to only one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars.

Eczema 25 Years Cured by "Cuticura"

Leg Like Raw Flesh from Knee Down

"I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My own doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Cuticura Remedies first. He said, 'try them if you like but I do not think they will do any good.' At this time my leg was peeling from the knee down, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh and I had to walk on crutches.

"I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent. After the first two treatments the swelling went down and in two months' use of the Cuticura Remedies my leg was cured and the new skin grown on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use Cuticura for his own patients. But for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I am truly grateful for the wonderful cure that Cuticura wrought and I always recommend it most highly as a sure and economical cure for skin troubles." (Signed) Mrs. J. B. Renaud, 277 Mettana St., Montreal.

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Ointment have afforded the speediest and most economical treatment for skin and scalp humors. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. For a liberal sample of each, with 32-p. book, send to: Potter & Co., Corp., 49 Columbus Ave., Boston, U.S.A.

Little Nelly told little Anita what she termed a "little fib."

Nelly—"No, it's not."

Anita—"Yes, it is, because my father said so, and my father is a professor of the university."

Improved Cars for Shipping Horses.

The fifty new horse cars which were recently put into operation by the Canadian Pacific Railway have become very popular with shippers of horses. The other day at the Woodbine races in Toronto an owner of a big Southern stable wanted to buy one of the cars outright from the Canadian Pacific. In moving about from track to track his horses had to cover a large amount of railway mileage and he thought that the C. P. R.'s cars were the safest and best in which to ship them.

The cars are built with adaptable stalls and collapsible feed troughs and are an improvement on the ordinary cars used for shipping horses.

We believe MINARD'S LINIMENT is the best:

A nation is civilized when it has a police force and a public sentiment strong enough to make its own out-laws behave.

There is about the same amount of devilment in every man, but some can let it slip out so gradual that it don't get 'em into trouble.

If a gun missed fire would a parachute?

A Thorough Pill—To clear the stomach and bowels of impurities and irritants is necessary when their action is irregular. The pills that will do this work thoroughly are Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which are mild in action but mighty in results. They purge painlessly and effectively, and work a permanent cure. They can be used without fear by the most delicately constituted, as there are no painful effects preceding their gentle operation.

When it is said of a man that he is in advance of the world, it is usually the case that he is wasting time advocating doctrines that won't work. If you are abreast of the world's progress, you are doing well.

Minard's Liniment cures burns, etc.

It may sound like a paradox, but common politeness between husband and wife is the most uncommon thing we know of.

Warts are unsightly blemishes and corns are painful growths. Holloway's Corn Cure will remove them.

Occasionally I meet people who say sermons are not long enough, but I have yet to hear any one speak well of the afternoon parties given by women.

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will drive worms from the system without injury to the child because its action, while fully effective, is mild.

A woman enjoys kissing so much, and objects so much to men kissing her, that I often regret that the poverty of human nature is such that a woman can't kiss herself.

Queries and Answers

"William, do you know why you are like a donkey?"

"Like a donkey?" echoed William opening his eyes wide. "No, I don't."

"Do you give it up?"

"I do."

"Because your better-half is stubbornness herself!"

"That's not bad. Ha! ha! I'll give that to my wife when I get home."

"Emily," he began, when he sat down to supper, "do you know why I am like a donkey?"

He waited a moment, expecting his wife to give it up; but she didn't. She looked at him with some pity in her eyes and replied:

"I suppose, dear, because you were born so."

Engaging

Mr. Honeyman looked hopefully at the pleasant, rosy-faced Norwegian girl with whom the manager of the employment bureau had accorded him an interview.

"Can you wash and iron?" he asked.

"Yaas, I do dose," responded the cheerful Minna.

"And can you wait on table? I mean will you, and answer the door bell?" Mr. Honeyman faltered.

"My wife is quite determined on those points."

"Yaas, I do dose," and Minna continued to beam benevolently.

"And you can cook, of course," said Mr. Honeyman.

"Yaas," said Minna, for the third time. "I do dat fine, ven you keep her busy, so she not help me."

Now, if the file in a rasping tone should call the auger a bore.

And the monkey wrench a nut from the vice, would the plane just smooth things over?

HAD BAD SORE FOUR YEARS

Zam-Buk Has Healed It!

Mrs. Wilson, 110 Wickson Ave., Toronto, says: "About four years ago a sore spot appeared on the right side of my face. This spot increased in size until it became about a half an inch in diameter and very painful. I went to a doctor but the ointment he gave me did not have any good effect. The sore continued to discharge freely, and was most painful. I had it cauterized, tried polices and all kinds of salves, but it was no good, and I continued to suffer from it for four years!"

"A sample of Zam-Buk was one day given to me, and I used it. Although the quantity was so small it seemed to do me some good, so I purchased a further supply.

"Each box did me more and more good, and, to my delight, before I had been using Zam-Buk three weeks I saw that it was going to heal the sore. In less than a month it was healed!"

"I know a lady in the east of the city, whose husband suffered for years with an open sore on his leg. On my recommendation Zam-Buk was tried in that case. The other day, when I saw her, she told me that it had healed the sore completely."

"My daughter, who lives in Lethbridge, Alta., has also used Zam-Buk with the same satisfactory result. I think it is, beyond all doubt, the finest healing balm known."

Such is the opinion of all persons who have really tried Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for eczema, piles, abscesses, ulcers, scalp sores, ringworm, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. In case of skin disease use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

The Power of the Breath.

When you have breathed into a paper bag in order to inflate it, for the fun of popping it afterward with your fist, have you ever asked yourself what is the power of your lungs? You are aware that this force is capable of being measured by the instrument called the spirometer, which you will often see at fairs. You may replace this elaborate affair with a simple paper bag.

Let your bag be long and rather narrow, of a sufficiently strong fabric. Lay it flat on the edge of the table, its mouth toward you; charge it with gradually increasing weights, such as books; then begin to blow, and you will be fairly astonished at the weight your breath is able to balance. As soon as you have become expert you will find it quite easy to upset a couple of heavy books, one above the other, by blowing underneath them.—Magical Experiments.

Olds News

Mr James Reed and Mr John Gillis and their families returned from Halkirk, Alta, where they have been visiting friends for the past couple of weeks.

Mr William Turnicliiff and family left for the coast Nov 1st. They will spend the winter on the coast and return to Alberta in the spring.

Miss Marion Craig who has been attending Mount Royal College, Calgary, returned on the 28th.

Miss Carico came up from Calgary Friday to visit her parents.

Charley Carsen was a Didsbury visitor Friday.

Arthur Bush and Earl Brower are out on a hunting trip. They expect to get a little venison.

The prairie chicken shooting is over for this season. They have been very plentiful and have created a lot of sport for many a Nimrod. But the best part of it is there seems to be as many left now as there usually is at the beginning of the open season. This will mean a fine crop for next year.

The concert given in the opera house Tuesday night was well attended and the selections were all well received. It was quite a disappointment to many that Mr A P Howells of Calgary was unable to be present as was expected. His place however was taken by Mr Vincent whose selections on the violin were well received. All the parts were well taken. Madame Isabelle Quigg surely has a clear, sweet voice and we predict her services will be in demand at all the 'doins'.

Joe Girding returned from Bassano Tuesday.

A Presentation

The Camp of Modern Woodmen of America, No 13444, met in their camp, Payne's hall, on Tuesday night under the presidency of Consul Morfitt. The chief event of the evening was the presentation of a past consul's badge to Mr Rasmussen, one of the oldest local members, who is leaving for California. Mr Armitstead made the presentation, and in a lengthy speech made reference to the excellent camp work done by Neighbor Rasmussen. Consul Morfitt and other neighbors corroborated the former speakers remarks. Mr Rasmussen in a neat speech tendered his thanks for the handsome gift.
